

Key Definitions for the Partnering with Medicaid Members Workshop

Medicaid member: person who is served by Medicaid, including their families or caretakers who are involved in their health, health care, and wellbeing. Typically, AHE teams would be working towards partnership with Medicaid members who experience health inequities.

Community member: person who is part of the “general public” and is likely to be impacted by your organization(s), either because they are in a relevant geographical area or part of another community served by your organization(s). Not necessarily a Medicaid member or a person experiencing health inequities.

Community partner or community-based organization: a social service organization that works in and has close ties to Medicaid members and community members.
