

Technical Assistance

What do we mean by TA?

Technical assistance (TA) is a process by which the Advancing Health Equity Program aids Learning Collaborative teams in:

1. Creating spaces in which organizations and individuals are held accountable through relationship building and through the application of the Accountable Spaces Framework.
2. Facilitating ongoing assessment of TA needs and adaptation to those ever-changing needs.
3. Facilitating the process for AHE LC Teams to make concrete service delivery changes to advance health equity and reform payment models to support the delivery changes.
4. Creating a healthcare system that meets everyone's needs.

Existing Learning Collaborative Teams

- Assess current status utilizing the Roadmap to Advance Health Equity as a guide
 - Build upon successes
 - Opportunities: where has the system pushed-back on your forward momentum?
- Verify and/or update current goals, objectives, and action plan

Existing Learning Collaborative Teams

- Shift to more tailored and adaptive technical assistance
- Implementation, sustainability, key stakeholder status assessment
- Move away (after current status assessment) from standard monthly meetings toward regular and tailored working sessions (versus reporting) with specific goals and objectives to move the project forward; tailored attendees.

Existing Learning Collaborative Teams

- Increased focus on Foundational Activities, Partnering with Medicaid Members and CBOs, and enhancing Cultures of Equity. Might include:
 - Team structure and function
 - Relationship building/strengthening (our meetings will start to look and feel different)
 - Integrating an antiracism approach
 - Begin working with our newest organizational partner, The Justice Collective

New Learning Collaborative Teams

- Ground and orient our new partnership
- Establish team goals and objectives
- Begin with focus on Foundational Activities, Partnering with Medicaid Members and CBOs, and enhancing Cultures of Equity
 - Develop team structure and function (or assess current status). Encourage a co-leadership model.
 - Start with and keep antiracism at the forefront
 - Relationship building/strengthening
- Regular and tailored working sessions with specific goals and objectives to move the project forward; tailored attendees.
